

Mohammad Moradi- Resume

---

Pistachio Research Center

P.O. Box 77175-435, Rafsanjan-Iran

E-Mail: m_moradi4@yahoo.com, moradi@pri.ir

Tel: 0098-9138285202, 0098-3914225204-7

Education and qualification

- Ph.D. in Plant Pathology, Bonn University, Germany, 2004 - 2009

Thesis: Microbiological and molecular assessment of interactions among the major Fusarium head blight pathogens on wheat ears

- M.Sc. in Plant Protection, College of Agriculture, Shiraz University Course, Iran 1994-1997.

Thesis: Isolation and identification of Phytophthora species from crown and root of pistachio nut trees in Kerman and Fars provinces and determination of relative resistance of common pistachio rootstocks to them.

- B.Sc. Department of Plant Protection, College of Agriculture, Ahvaz University Course; Plant protection, 1990-1994.

Membership of national and international societies

- Iranian Phytopathology Society, from 1998 until now.

Employment experience

2009- : Researcher at Pistachio Research Center (PRC)

2009- 2012 : National consultant in FAO TCP project; TCP/IRA/3104

2014- : Head of Plant Protection Department in PRC

Aware obtained

Ph.D. scholarship, Ministry of Agriculture, Tehran, Iran

Conducted research projects.

Specific Training course

- Training program on mycotoxin analysis in Technical University of Munich, Germany, 03-14 August 2009.
- Sampling methodology for aflatoxin and mold inspection in pistachio, 28 September to 2 October 2009, IPRI-FAO (Setting up a training course at IPRI in contribution with FAO ).

Skills

- Principles of DNA and RNA based molecular techniques
- Identification the species of Fusarium, Aspergillus and Trichoderma using morphological and new molecular assay tools
- Principles of electrophoresis, PCR, RFLP, AFLP and Real-Time PCR techniques
- Principles of Plant Pathology laboratory techniques, isolation, identification and taxonomy, inoculum production (recently I have developed a new, rapid and simple spore production method in Fusarium species), mass production of Trichoderma for biological control, ecology and biology of mycotoxicogenic fungi (especially Fusarium and Aspergillus) and inoculation tests
- Control of phytopathogenic fungi using trunk injection of fungicides
- Mycotoxin analysis
- Computing, Bioinformatics software's and programs
